Let's Read About the Hidden Gold

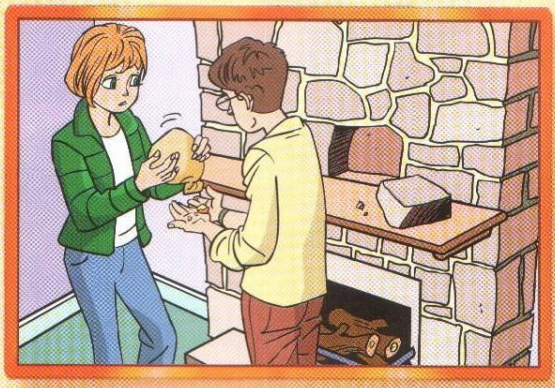

CD 1 35

"What's this?" asked JJ. "It doesn't look like English."
"It's mirror writing," said Everett. "The writing is backward."
"What does it say?" asked JJ.
"I don't know. I'll get a mirror." Everett returned with a mirror. "Look at this," said Everett.

I found the gold behind the middle stone of the fireplace. Oh, I am a silly fool!

"Gold!" said JJ. "Do you think it's in your fireplace?"

"I don't know," said Everett. "Let's go and look. Maybe the gold is still there."
They ran inside and moved the stone. JJ pulled out a bag. Inside, there were shiny, gold rocks. Everett laughed.
"Look!" JJ said. "Gold."
"It's not gold," Everett said. "It's Fool's Gold. Remember the words, I am a silly fool?"
"Isn't it gold?" asked JJ.
"No, it isn't," said Everett. "Someone hid these stones a long time ago. It was a game."
"Someone found the stones," said JJ.
"Then they put them back."
"So we could find them," said Everett.
"Now we're silly fools, too!"

New Words

return → returned
silly	backward
fireplace	stone
gold	Fool's Gold

I found the gold behind the middle stone of the fireplace. Oh, I am a silly fool!